Diary of a wimpy kid long haul cast rodrick

Olivia Bleyaert, ReporterApril 5, 2017During the weekend, a campaign started to arise about the acting cast of the new movie of "Diary Of The Wimpy Kid" and one of its characters, Rodrick. People are upset about the new actor who is playing the new Rodrick instead of the older actor Devon Bostick. The new actor's name is Charlie Wright, and he does not look like the Rodrick that we all know and love. The campaign started when the trailer came out of the new movie and people were enraged by what they saw. Most of the people on social media were comparing him to different characters from different shows/movies. Wright is mostly compared to Lord Farquaad, Bella Thorne, Jeffrey Star, Pleakley from "Lilo and Stitch" and Dora The Explorer. People mostly were just roasting this actor because how different he looks from the original Rodrick from the past movies. The reason why the original actor wasn't going to be in the movie is because he is 25 years old now, and he doesn't really look like a teenager anymore so the producers just needed another actor that actually looks younger and they found one (that doesn't really look like Rodrick). There is also another trending hashtag "Not My Heffleys" as well with the "Not My Rodrick" campaign. Because they also replaced the actor for Greg, mom, dad, and even Rowley. Our childhood has been taken from us and has been replaced with different actors. This tomfoolery is outrageous to all of our childhoods and our hearts have been ripped out of our chests. Why can't they just keep the old actors and show them looking older and growing? Nobody stays young forever. Young Greg Heffley is looking forward to a long summer of just hanging out, but his mother throws a monkey wrench into his plans when she forces the entire family to take a road trip for a relative's birthday celebration. His eyes soon light up after he realizes that the excursion is his ticket to a gaming convention to meet YouTube sensation Mac Digby. Greg's imagination then kicks into overdrive as he sneakily hatches a scheme to attend the expo and gain some much-deserved fame. Diary of a Wimpy Kid: The Long HaulStarring Jason Drucker, Charlie Wright, Owen Asztalos, Tom Everett Scott, Alicia Silverstone. Directed by David Bowers. 92 minutes. Opens May 19 at major theatres. PGLike Cocoon for the preteen set, the Diary of a Wimpy Kid comedy franchise moves into film number four after a five-year break with The Long Haul and a new slate of youthful actors replacing now-adult originals. Social media didn't pause to consider diarist Greg Heffley with a five o'clock shadow when mounting a #NotMyHeffleys hashtag campaign. Chill, furious texters: this cast is just as fun as the factory-issue. They take over without a hiccup to deliver the same kind of kid-level laughs and slapstick shenanigans that carried Jeff Kinney's bestselling illustrated kids' novel series to the big screen.Jason Drucker (replacing Zachary Gordon) gives 12-year-old Wimpy Kid Greg a touch of world-weariness while Charlie Wright trades some of Rodrick's meanness for added laughs with even more d'uh factor as the dim-bulb older brother. Alicia Silverstone and Tom Everett Scott are now in the thankless Susan and Frank parental roles.Susan comes up with a great idea for a family summer road trip to visit the boys' meemaw (grandma) for her 90th birthday. And she's confiscating their phones, including husband Frank's, to ensure maximum bonding time on the long drive.Anchoring the car-seat role is troublesome 3-year-old baby brother Manny (twins Dylan and Wyatt Walters), who is occasionally the smartest one in the bunch.A family lunch at a goofy theme restaurant sets Greg up for major humiliation when an incident in the ball pit makes him a combination Internet meme and laughingstock. Redemption could come via a new viral video to replace bad memories, if only he could manage to detour the vacation route to a Player's Expo convention to meet his gamer hero. And maybe there's something in it for Rodrick.David Bowers, who co-wrote the script with Kinney, is back directing, keeping things moving with sped-up camera action, inspiration from National Lampoon's Vacation and liberal lifts from Alfred Hitchcock.The running joke sees Susan promoting unplugged family togetherness while everybody, including dad, is suffering device withdrawal. Even Manny has his own version when his pacifier goes missing. Mom's attempt to plug holes with lame games and a trip to a country fair nets only sarcasm from the older boys and a piglet prize for Manny that adds a smelly passenger to the van.Yet for all the gags, Rodrick's staggering dumbness and enough poop jokes to keep the average kid happily chortling, this Wimpy Kid seems to drag in the second half, feeling longer than its 92-minutes.Rowley (now played by Owen Asztalos) fans will be sad that he gets little screen time and oddball redhead Fregley is MIA. #Where'sMyFregley.Loading...Loading...Loading...Loading... Greg Heffley is mischievous, lazy, paranoid, arrogant, and dishonest. 11 Questions - Developed by: Bailsboss - Developed on: 2018-11-08 - 5,918 taken - 3 people like it Let's see how well you know this heart throb I want to know what his ages were in all of the 3 Movies-Diary of a Wimpy Kid (2010)-Diary of a Wimpy Kid: Rodrick Rules (2011)-Diary of a Wimpy Kid: Dog Days (2012) In 2014, he began playing Jasper Jordan on CW's series The 100.
